Britain Sends Demarche In Strong Terms To Berlin

COLLAPSE OF AUSTRIAN RESISTANCE

German Aeroplanes Over Vienna: Police Don Swastika

Munich, To-day.

It is learned that German troops marched in close formation across the frontier into Austria at FRENCH-several points at 10 o'clock last night.—Reuter.

London, To-day.

The Cabinet will meet at 10.30 this morning to discuss the European situation.—Reuter.

London, To-day.

It is learned that on instructions from the British Government, the British Ambassador in Berlin, in reference to the contents of the German ultimatum to Austria, has protested in very strong terms against such use of coercion backed by force against an independent state in order to create a situation incompatible with its national independence.

It was pointed out that such action was bound to produce very grave reactions of which it is impossible to foretell the issue.

The French Government is lodging a similar protest.—Reuter.

RIBBENTROP POSTPONES DEPARTURE

London, To-day. The German Foreign Minister. Herr Joachim von Ribbentrop, lunched with the Prime Minister in Downing Street yesterday, and remained in conversation with Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Halifa: after the departure of the other guests.

Paris, To-day.

A communique issued by President Miklas of Austria at 9 p.m. last night announced that he has not accepted Chancellor Schuschnigg's resignation, that the Goyernment remains in power and that he has decided not to yield! to the German message.

FURTHER PERIOD

This is according to a message from Vienna, which adds "Austria remains a free and indepencent state. The German plempotentiaries gave Austria a further period of time expiring at 9 p.m. Hitherto no decision has been taken on the German side." -Reuter.

At 20 p.m. German troops were crossing the border.

Working Girls Dress Budget

Miss Frieda Miller, of the New York State Department of Labour, has just told the world what there ought to be in every working girl's wardrobe. Here's her budget, based on investigations made throughout the State:-

Twenty pairs of silk stockings a year.

Eight dresses and a blouse and skirt.

One jumper and four hats. Five pairs of shoes.

Three pairs of gloves.

Two handbags and a dozen handkerchiefs.

A winter coat every three years. A spring coat every two years.

And the annual clothing budget, according to Miss Miller, should amount to £40. That's 15s. a week. So there is no hope for you if you make any bad choices.

Unless holes in sheets are very big, they can be successfully mended with wide tape. This does away with the necessity of hemming the edges of the patch.

NOVEL NECKLACE YOU make this attractive necklace yourself. All you need is a string of pearls or beads and a length of moire ribbon or velvet, long enough to go round the neck and tie in a bow at the back, as you can seefrom the sketch. Thread the beads in three strings very securely and sew the ribbon or velvet on each end. So that it does not get creased and messy-looking through being continuously tied and untied, fashion the ribbon into a bow and stitch it in place. A press stud or hook and eye can be sewn on for fastening, and no one will tell the the difference. Why not make a set in this way—a bracelet would be just as simple to do as a necklace, and they will both look very charming and original with an afternoon or evening dress.

What To Avoid When Writing To Friends

Do you write a creditable letter Oh I don't mean to ask if you know the correct formula for writing a business note, although that's a very pleasant knowledge indeed to have, but what kind of letters do you write to your friends. Would you want to disguise yourself as a police dog and slink off into the night if you thought that any vour personal correspondence would ever see the light of day?

For the moment we're not concerned with the contents of the letter but with its general appearance. In the first place, do you have the good sense to choose that kind paper that is custom-built for your handwriting, or haven't you thought of this before?

If you write a narrow, genteel hand, then select long, slender sheets of paper, and likewise, if your hand is fairly thick and squat, decide upon squarish note paper. If you do this you'll find at the outset that the appearance of your letter is immediately improved

Be Conservative

Be conservative here, as well as in everything else—it doesn't cost any more. Don't use scented stationery—at least not highly scented. bright-coloured paper fancylinings or weirdly shaped envelopes. Don't go in for vari-coloured inks-(All of which reminds us of neurotic woman whose doctor prescribed purple as the most soothing colour for her. She overlooked Practical nothing and always used 6-cent stamps on her envelopes! That took care of the proper vibrations.)

Your paper, of course, should not be of the ruled variety, but that shouldn't keep you from writing on a straight line. There are some dear souls who, after leaving a margin, suddenly rmember that there more they wish to say and so the words are penned along the margins at right angles to the rest of the writing. Others have a neat habit of writing across a sheet paper so that when they come to the fold the sentence extends over two sheets actually. All very bad, indeed.

Where should the date go? Either in the upper right hand corner of the first sheet or below and to the left of the signature.

Page Sequence

What is the correct sequence for the pages? This isn't vital to the health of the Nation-but it's customary to use page three if the note is longer than one page, but there's nothing to prevent you from using page four second if the spirit thus moves you. Why people usually write their notes, one, three, two crust pie with the initial of the filland four, I cannot say, as it always ing. This is a convenience if you seems more sensible and good deal are sending pies to a sale or comless confusing to one who likes simplicity to number the sheets as with the pages of a book, just one, two, three and four. (Imagine, for example, having to read Anthony Adverse" or "Gone With the Wind" As a close, "sincerely, very sincerein the one, three, two, four order.) ly, always sincerely yours," are It isn't even bad manners to write perhaps the most formal. on the first and the fourth page and "Faithfully" is good if you are a then to open the inside full and man, "affectionately yours, lovingly, right sideways across two and three. devotedly," are all very well if Mrs. Kelly, Dear Sue, and Dear future embarrassments. HRHHES

Do it this way.

First, on your way home from business, buy yourself a pot of good wrinkle cream. Then make yourself comfortable in a wrap-sit down in front of a large mirror-and you are ready to begin.

Rest your thumbs just in front of your ears, and gently massage your forehead with your second and third fingers. Start just above the eves, where there are two little lines between your eyebrows.

It may be through concentrated eye-strain, but it may be through frowning—and that's a warning for Massage the cream into these lines, and then outwards towards the temple, completing the movement by bringing your fingers round under the eyes. Continue doing this for three or four minutes.

Then start on your chin, and those lines from nose to mouth which, if too deeply engraved, make any face look haggard.

Put a dab of cream on to the tip of your chin and smooth it with the middle finger, up your jaw towards the ears.

Then continue towards the nose and up either side of it to finish between the eyes. Do this for another three or four minutes.

Then take a cleansing tissue and, always using an upward movement, wipe away the surplus cream.

Perfume

In spite of the fact that there are many exotic perfumes now on the market, eau dé Cologne still remains a favourite. As well as being pleasantly refreshing, it has other uses.

For instance, all grease and dust can be removed from the hair and scalp with ean de Cologne. Dip the finger-tips in it and massage the scalp with a circular movement. Then sprinkle a few drops over a clean brush and brush the hair thoroughly. Finally rub the hair with a silk handkerchief, and it will take on a burnished appearance. A complexion freshener can be made by adding about twelve drops of eau de Cologne to a glass of warm milk, while two or three drops in a tumbler of warm water supply a good mouth wash.

INK ON PINK PLASTER

Question—One of the children has spattered red ink on a pink-coloured plaster wall. How can I remove it?

Answer—You can take out the red ink stains with water. Dao the stains with damp cloths.

MARRED TABLE TUP

Question—I have several small top tables which have places worn to the wood. How can I refinish them so they will not show water marks. etc.?

Answer—Begin by taking off the old finish, which you can do either by scraping or with a liquid varnish remover. If you use the remover, have plenty of ventilation in the room, as it is inflammable. After using, all traces of the remover should be wiped off with turpentine. Refinish with two coats of a quick-drying varnish containing synthetic resins. This method will give you a heatproof and liquidproof surface.

REFINISHING TABLE TOP

Question—My dining table top is badly marked. I should like to refinish to match the rest of the furniture, making the surface heat and liquid proof.

Answer—Remove the old finish oy sandpapering and scraping. When the surface is bare and clean, get the colour that you want with an oil stain. Let this dry hard, and finish with a quick-drying varnish that contains synthetic resins. This finish will give you the heatproof surface that you want.

FINISH FOR CELLAR WALLS

Question—To prevent dampness on my cellar walls, I have been advised to use cement paint in two coats, first removing the present coat of whitewash. Can this be washed off instead of scraping with a wire brush? The foundation is poured concrete.

Answer—First try washing off the whitewash with hot water. If it sticks somewhat, add one cup of ammonia to the gallon of water. If the whitewash adheres too tightly to come off, then it is undoubtedly eased in paint. In this case it is not necessary to remove it. The cement paint can go on over it.

A LEAKING CHIMNEY

Question—I have a large stone chimney in my country items. After a driving rain storm, water trickles down the stone work above the fire-place inside the house. A stone mason advises tearing the chimney down and rebuilding, saying that the mortar between the stones must be porous. This would be both inconvenient and expensive. Is there not some paint that would prevent the leaking of rain through the masonry?

Answer — Leakage cannot be through the stone; it must be either through the mortar joints, the roof flashings, or the chimney cap itself. Examine all roof flashings that are anywhere near the chimney Jah the mortar joints with an ice pick if the mortar proves to be soft, have it all repainted. The chimney cap may be cracked or broken. Before doing anything, I should get the advice of another mason, or of a good builder.

SPARKLING EYES

The appearance of the eves depends largely on the character and health of individuals, but much can be done to keep them clear and sparkling by following a few simple pier rules.

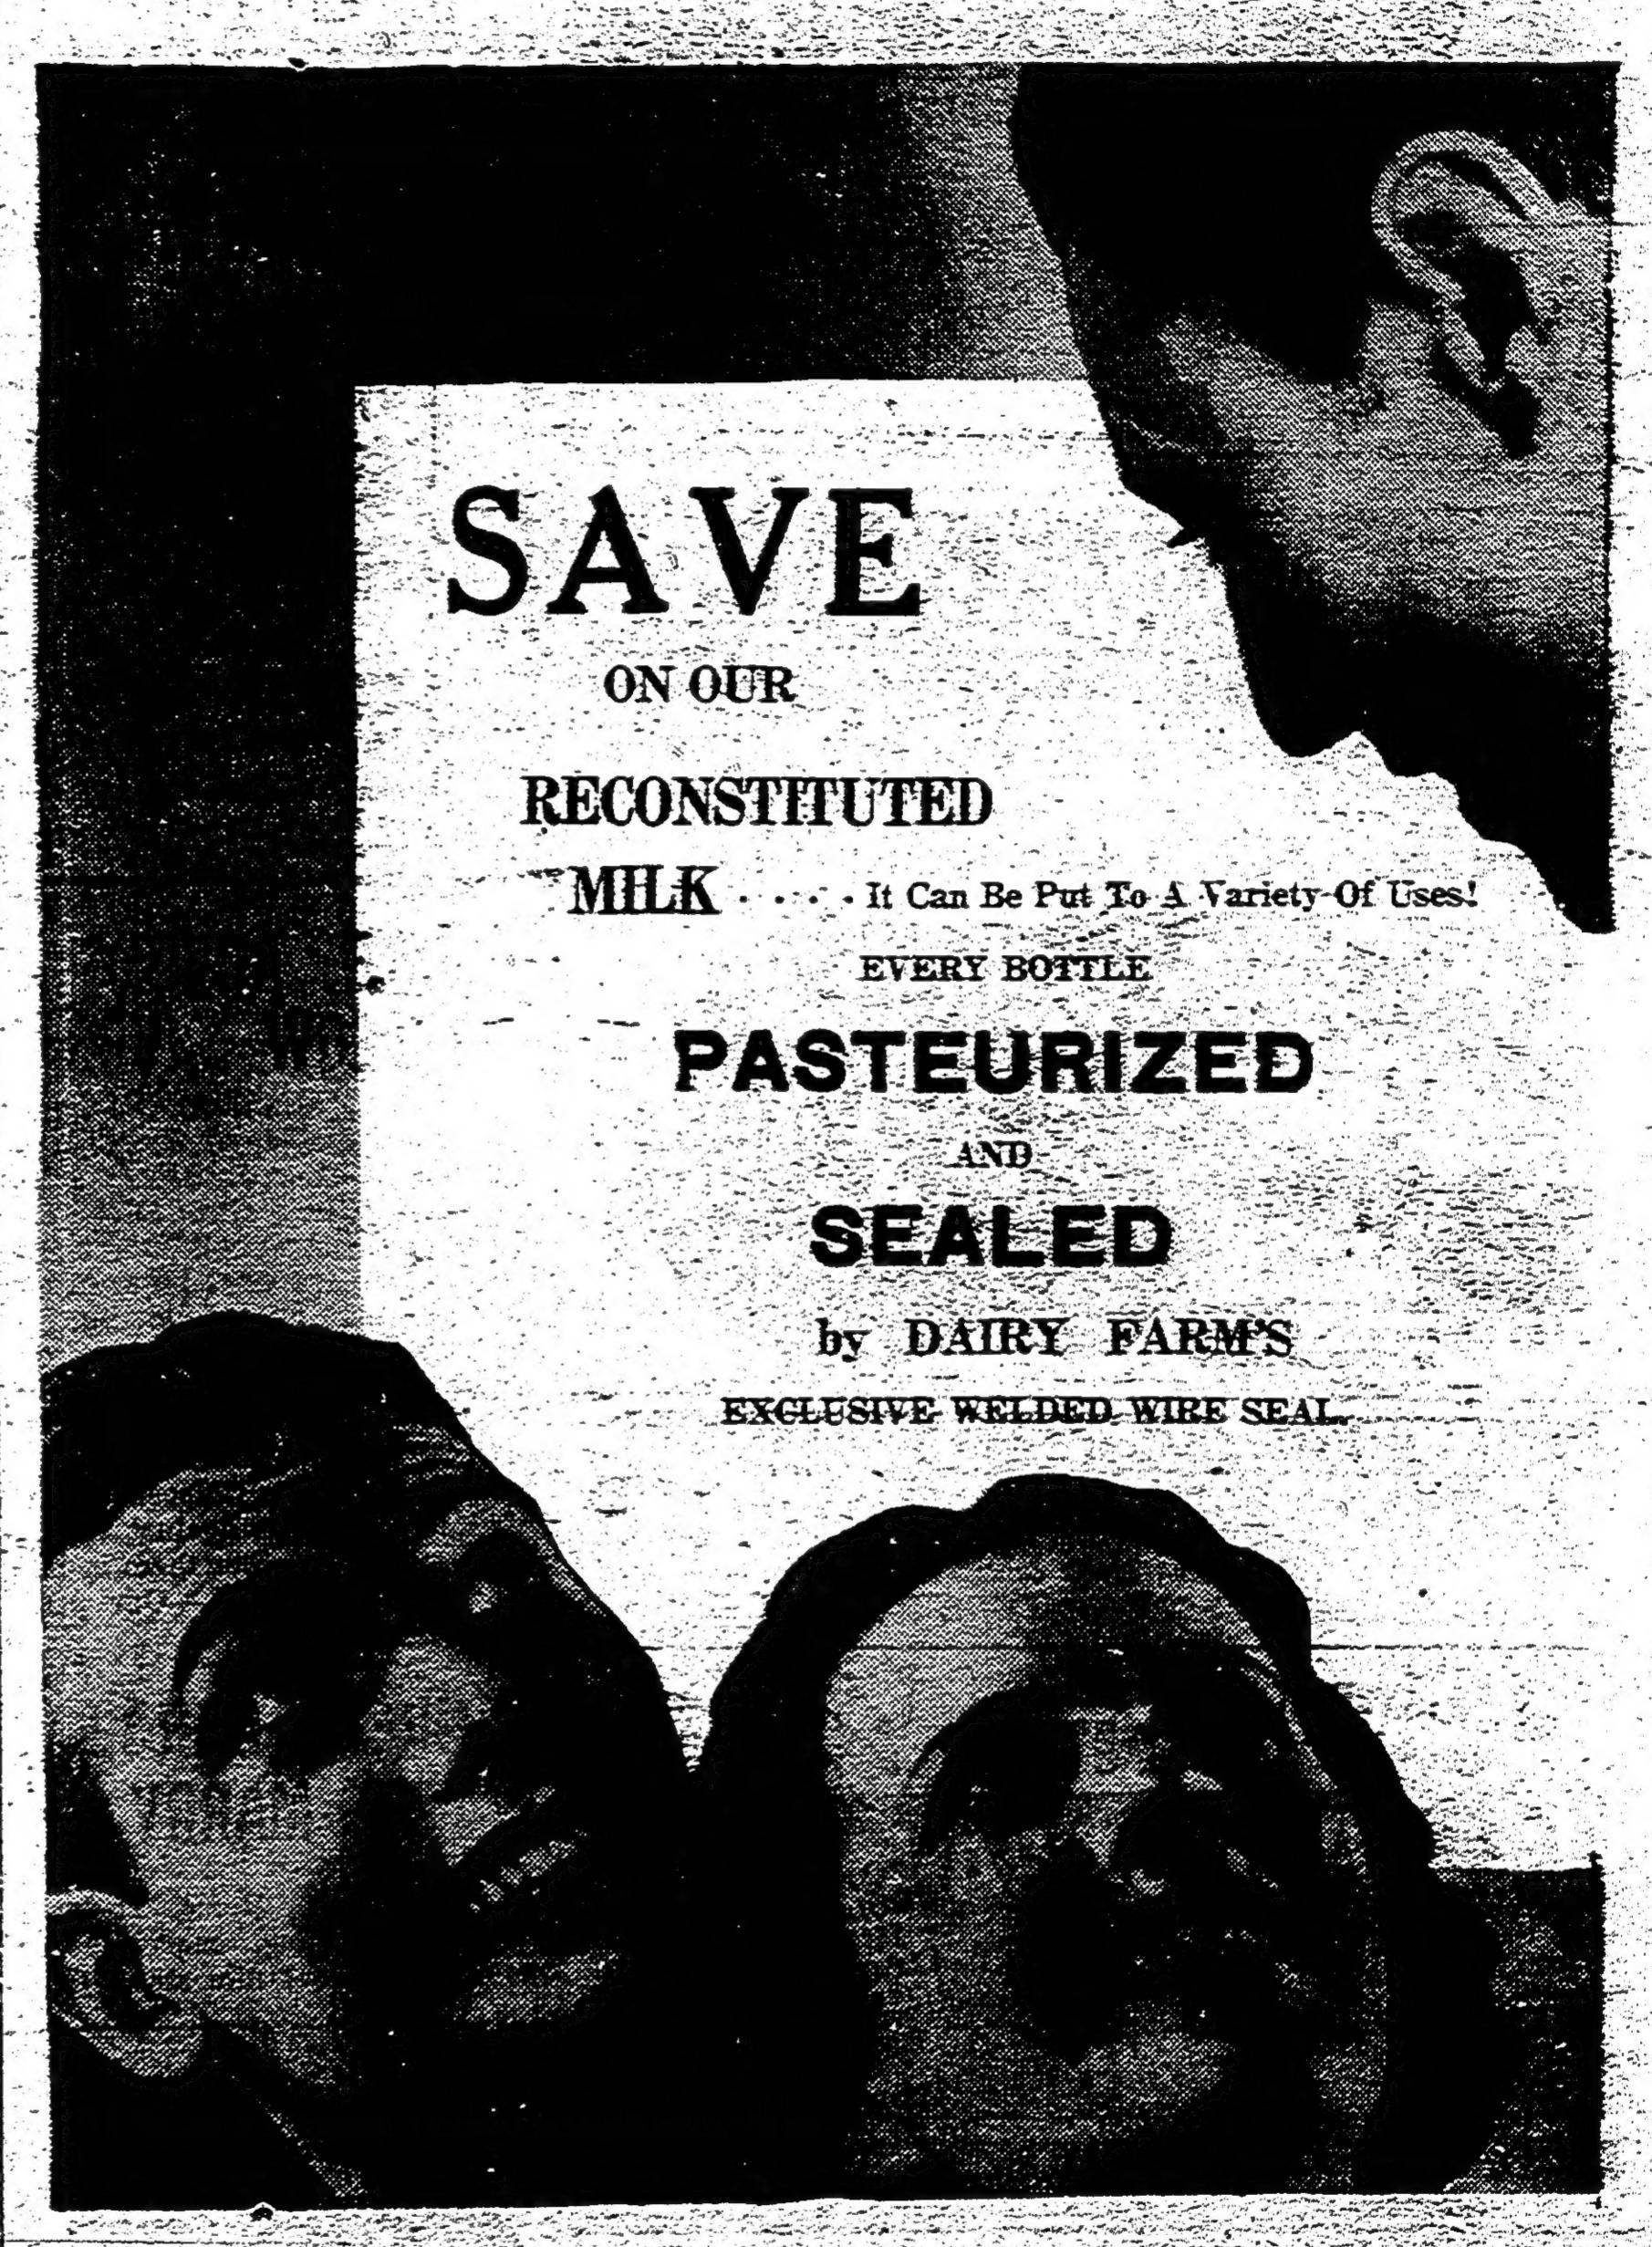

The eyes re-act quickly to any clogging of the internal workings. A regular dose of some mild saline drink every morning, plus a tumbleful of cold water between meals, will do much to remove duliness of the eyes.

The eyes need frequent bathing casily give rise to irritation and inflammation of their delicate surface. It is a good plan after washing the face both night and notating to dip the face into clear cold water, keeping the eyes open foot of us object to weeping over the peeling of an onson but actually this is one of the best of eye-baths.

A tired look shout the eyes can be removed by soaking pads of cotton wood in a glass of water to which half a teaspeonful of salt has been added and then placing them over the closed eye. Lie down for ten minutes with these pads in place and you will be surprised at the improvement after they have been removed.

No amount of treatment will bein, however it the eyes are really suffering from strain. It is the greatest possible mistake to put off the wearing of glasses until the sight is seriously impaired through neglect.

Zeiss-Inquart Warns Country Against Opposition

Vienna, To-day.

Postponement of the Austrian plebiscite was announced this evening following the receipt of an ultimatum from Herr Hitler, allegedly threatening to send troops into Austria in the event on non-compliance within three hours.

The statement that Herr Hitler had threatened an armed invasion of Austria was made by Herr Zernatto, the Secretary-General of the Fatherland Front in a broadcast speech last night.

Zernatto added that the German ultimatum demanded the resignation of the Austrian Cabinet, and the appointment of a government of Hitler's choice.

President Miklas then ordered the Chancellor, Dr. Schuschnigg "to yield to force."

DEPUTATION SENT

Prior to postponement of the plebiscite, the German ultimatum, it is stated in another quarter, made no direct mention of the possibility of military action, but threatened that some decisive decision would emerge out of another, session of the Reishstag which Herr Hitler was ready to convoke.

It is learned that the ultimatum was brought by Gauliter Burckel, one of the Nazi provincial governors, who came at the head of a deputation.

ALL INFORMED

representatives of foreign powers were informed of the German ultimatum, which gave three hours time limit for compliance:

Herr Zeiss-Inquart in a broadcast speech warned the Austrian people against the slightest resistance to the German army if it marched into Austria.

Meanwhile, reports were early current that German troops had already crossed the German-Austrian frontier.—Reuter.

BRITISH PLANES IMPRESS FRENCH EXPERIS

Members of the French air mission which is studying production methods in Britain saw at the airport at Southampton a demonstration by a Supermarine "Spitfire" single-seater.

The "Spitfire" is claimed to be the world's fastest military aeroplane.

It was designed by the late Mr. R. J. Mitchell, formerly chief designer and a director of the Supermarine Aviation Works.

He was responsible for the famous Supermarine racing seaplane which won the Schneider Trophy and set up a series of world speed records. The machine is fitted with a Rolls Royce Merlin engine. It is an allmetal low-wing monoplane. Its performance is a carefully guarded

A "Walrus" amphibian flying boat also showed its paces. The visiting experts were greatly impressed when Fit. Lt. A. G. Pickering, the chief test pilot, looped the loop in it.

INQUEST ADJOURNED

The inquest on Matthews was opened at Oxford, and Phillips was brought from prison. He was accompanied by a detective, who sat between him and his father.

Before evidence was called the Chief Constable said: "There is a man in custody, charged with the murder of Matthews. It will be necessary for me to communicate with the Director of Public Prosecutions, who will then take charge of the case."

The coroner, Mr. H. E. Galpin, then took formal evidence.

The father, Ernest Matthews, a milk roundsman, said that at 1.30 p.m. he was told that his boy was dead. At five p.m. he went to the mortuary and identified the body.

The coroner told Mr. F. S. Vaughan, representing Phillips, that if he wanted a pathological examination he must let him know as early as possible. Every facility would be given.

The inquest, which had lasted just over two minutes, was then adjourned sine die.

"HORRIFIC" MICKEY

What Children Like

Mr. Walt Disney's Mickey Mouse cartoons sometimes come in the "horrific" film class, according to the seventh annual report, of Miss Jessie Phillips, secretary of the Bath Children's Cinema Council.

Publication follows the decision by the British Board of Film Censors to grant only an "A" certificate to Disney's first full-length cartoon, "Snow White and the certain scenes.

Miss Phillip's report states: "Mickey Mouse cartoons are rather difficult of selection. Many are quite unsuitable, I think, for the younger children as they are often very trightening."

The report regrets the absence of good film entertainment for children. A suitable story film is very rarely found, it is stated, despite the fact that English litera-

GOIF CHAMPIONSHIP CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

Subject: Substance

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science churches to-morrow Mar. 13th will be "Substance." The Golden Text will be "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus. (Phil. 4: 19.).

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible "And when it was evening, his disciples came to him saying. This is a desert place and Play was even for the second the time is now past; send the multihalf, the players being level on the tude away, that they may go into the 18th tee. This hole proved dis- But Jesus said unto them, they need astrons for Mrs. McCorrer as hor not depart; give ye them to est. And approach shot was trapped in the they say unto him, we have here but bunker guarding the green and she five loaves and two fishes. He said, failed to get out at the first Bring them-hither to me. And he comfailed to get out at the first Bring them-hither to me. manded the multitude to sit down on. the grass and took the five loaves and two fishes and looking up to heaven he. blessed and brake and gave the loavesto his disciples and the disciples to the multitude. And they did all est and were filled and they took of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full. And they that had eaten were. Lincolnshire Handican which will about five thousand men, beside women and children. (Matt. 14: 15-21.).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key tothe Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. "In the scientific relation of God toman whatever blesses one blesses all, as Jesus showed with the loaves and fishes,—Spirit not matter being the source of supply. If seed is necessary to produce wheat, and wheat to produce flour, or if one animal can originate another, how then can we account for their primal origin? How were the loaves and fishes multiplied on the shores of Galilee, and that, too, without meal or monad from which loaf or fish could come? Spirit blesses the multiplication of its own pure and perfect ideas. As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit not matter. The belief that man has any other sub-stance, or mind, is not spiritual and breaks the First Commandment, Thou shalt have one God, one Mind. In diformed that all Goods are being landed vine Science. Man is sustained by God, at their risk into the hazardous and/or the divine Principle of being." (Pages.

FIVE SENIOR SOCCER TIES TO-DAY

"NEEDLE" MATCH IN JUNIOR SOCCER

Good Programme

The most important game in the Second Division of the Football League to-day is the encounter between the 5th A. A. Bde. R.A., and the Kwong Wah, one of the semifinalists in the Junior Shield competition, on the Kowloon Football Club ground.

level terms with the Middlesex, at the head of the League table, while South China "A" v Club Kwong Wah are just behind. In their first meeting, the Artillery obtained both points by a narrow margin and this afternoon a good game should eventuate if the Kwong Wah field their best side, which will Middlesex probably include Chan Fai-lum, from South China.

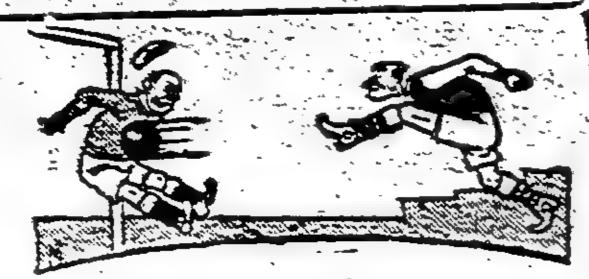

CLUB SHOULD WIN

The Club should fully extend South China as they have been playing good football recently, and, with Wilson and Shaw in the forward Kwong Wah line, should collect both points.

The two teams at the bottom of the League table, the Chinese Sappers and Eastern, should provide an even game with the Sappers favoured, while Middlesex should retain their position at the head of the table at the expense of Kowloon, who will probably be without Maxwell and Betts, who have been promoted to the Senior side.

CORINTHIANS HELD TO GOALLESS DRAW

Manila, Mar. 11. Corinthians played Islington their second football match to-day against the University of Santo Tomas. The game ended in a draw, no goals being scored.—Reuter.

FOOTBALL FORECAST FOR TO-DAY

The following is the League Football forecast for this week end:—

Referee:-Farr. T Engineers (C.) (St. Joseph's 3 p.m.). Referee: Salter.

S. CHINA "B" SHOULD CONSOLIDATE HEIR POSITION

IDDLESEX WILL ALSO BE ON TOP

CLUB STRENGTHENED AGAINST S. CHINA "A"

(By "OUTSIDE LEFT")

FOR the first time in many months the Saturday afternoon League football programme will be featured by five First Division encounters, of which two should provide fairly interesting fare.

The Middlesex Regiment, who are at present at the top of the table, are at home to the Police, who made vast strides since they first met. The Middlesex have several outstanding men, who have so far represented the Army in representative games, and it is these players whom the Police defenders will have to pay special attention.

Engineers (E.) v Police. (Military H. V. 3 p.m.). Referee:-Dove.

SUNDAY Lai Wah Cup Final v Army Chinese (Causeway Bay, 4 p.m.). Referee:—Smyth Linesmen:-Goss and Lawrence.

South China "B" are lying second in the table, one point behind the Middlesex, although they have three games in hand, and should find Kowloon not too difficult to tackle following the latter's poor showing against the Middlesex last week, in the Senior Shield, when they went down by 6 goals to 1.

The Club will be strengthened by the inclusion of Sydney Strange, at full-back, and Ken Forrow, in the intermediate line. Both these players have recently returned from leave and are both reported to be in excellent condition.

HALVES STRENGTHENED

Forrow's inclusion at centre-half will be a big boon to the Club's defence, as they have been very weak in this position this season, while Strange's inclusion, at full-back, should also be welcome. It will be recalled that Strange was one of the outstanding backs last season; and gave some superlative displays towards the latter stages or just before he went on leave.

The Club actually visit Caroline Hill where they clash with South China "A", who have twice succumbed to their European rivals in recent seasons, and, with the Chinese in poor form this season, the Club have every chance of repeating their success of former years.

St. Joseph's clash with the Seaforths on the Navy ground, but are not expected to beat the Seaforths, while Eastern should have little difficulty with Kowloon Chinese.

LA SALLE SPORTS TO-DAY

The seventh annual athletic sports of La Salle College will be held on the college ground to-day commencing at 4 p.m. H.E. Mgr. H. Valtorta, Vicar-Apostolic, has kindly consented to give away the prizes.
